About the Training...

Course Overview

When a group has to hold a difficult conversation, facilitators and group leaders must provide a structure and process that supports a safe, candid and respectful exchange of ideas. This workshop is designed to provide participants with a better understanding of the choices for structuring group dialogues on contentious, emotional, or values-based issues.

Through discussions, demonstrations and participation in several dialogue processes, class members will learn ways to support effective dialogue among

- Co-workers
- Stakeholder representatives
- Coalition members
- Neighbors
- Congregants
- Family members

Workshop attendees will

- Participate in three structured group dialogue processes
- Review a variety of additional processes for group dialogue
- Clarify key considerations in selecting and facilitating each process
- Identify practical applications for real-world conversations on difficult issues
- Receive a 20-page manual of information and resources related to group dialogue
